

Web Fig. 1 (a) Ultrasonography (USG) of abdomen revealed few iso- and hyper-echoic lesions in the right lobe. (b) CT scan revealed multiple thick-walled, septated, hypodense space-occupying lesions with peripheral and septal post-contrast enhancement. They were close to the biliary tree and were communicating with each other within the liver.