

Pedscapes

Internet Resources on Learning Disability

Non-Verbal Learning disability on the Web - <http://www.nldontheweb.org/>

This is website dedicated to specific non-verbal learning disabilities(NLD). The website contains information on assessment of NLD, advocacy and interventions in school and home. The website also includes a NLD library, forum and links to other internet resources. 'Brain Salad' is a unique feature of the website that educates patients and parents the working of the brain and mechanisms of learning disability.

National Center for Learning Disability - <http://www.ncld.org/>

This is a United States based website that provides comprehensive information on various types of learning disabilities. The website contains 'LD infozone' that provides information on various learning disabilities, 'Living with LD' - section with information on schooling, jobs and legal rights, latest news, a forum and the 'early literacy program'.

Do2 Learn - www.do2learn.com

Do2 Learn provides activities that aim to promote development in patients with specific learning disabilities. The material includes communication cards for parents and teachers; including homework helpers, math grids, tables, alphabet, number, color, and shape learning activities, songs and games, and home teaching kits. Computer based teaching programs are also accessible online.

C. Vidyashankar,
*PO Box 3168, Post Code 112,
Muscat,
Oman.*

E-mail: vidyashankarc@hotmail.com