

WEB FIG. 1 CT abdomen shows a large, ill defined, mixed density lesion in segments 5, 7 and 8 with extravasation of contrast into the perihepatic space suggesting a ruptured hepatocellular carcinoma (a); and Hepatic angiogram showed a large hyper vascular area in right lobe of liver, supplied by anterior division of right hepatic artery (b).